the perfect choice for every bride

When planning a wedding, there are so many choices, so many decisions to be made and so many ideas that come together to make your dream wedding come true, but there is one decision that lasts a lifetime – your choice of wedding rings. When the dress is in the attic and the honeymoon is a distant memory, your wedding ring is still very much in pride of place and it is that most important decision of all that will be with you forever.

Something for her...

With a timeless collection of stunning wedding jewellery, Sym will ensure any bride-to-be is spoilt for choice when it comes to finding her perfect wedding ring, earrings and even pendant. Whether you fall in love with something from the range or have a specific image in mind, they can create a beautiful and bespoke ring unique to suit you and your individual requirements.

Renowned for its exquisite ranges, the unsurpassed quality of gems and finished pieces combined with the personal service each bride and groom receives, Sym Jewellery is the perfect choice for brides and of course, their groom!

A symbol of love that lasts a lifetime, wedding rings from Sym are a creation of timeless style and the utmost quality in a choice of 18 carat white, yellow and pink gold or Platinum.

The ladies handmade Platinum wide band ring underscores the jeweller's reputation for exquisitely faceted diamonds of supreme colour and clarity. Made to order to suit your own requirements, the stunning ring is the epitome of modern trend combined with classical, timeless design to complement a woman for a lifetime.

The diamond set wedding band is a firm favourite for the modern bride and the choice available from Sym is endless. Each delicately crafted individually results in an elegant finished piece that nestles perfectly against the engagement ring.

Something for him...

For gentleman, why not follow the latest trend of men's engagement rings? Worn on the ring finger on the left hand until the wedding day, it then moves to the ring finger on the right thereafter. A bold, 'in vogue' statement that has taken the wedding industry by storm and which features in the latest men's collection from Sym. The range is as desirable as the wedding ring collection itself with rings ranging from the traditional classics to those with modern, contemporary styling or even a fusion of metals. With total flexibility to have a ring created in the style to suit you and your personality and with the option to add your chosen gems, include a modern 'moveable' centre or to retain the traditional, yet stunning wide band in yellow gold, this is a savvy choice for many grooms.

Something forever...

Sym Jewellery is also delighted to be working with many leading designers to complete its collections and this pendant from Dante Cenci is just one example of simply stunning jewellery that will capture the hearts of any bride. An eye-catching and dazzling 18 carat white gold diamond pendant and chain that is the quintessence of wedding jewellery is perfect in every way. With a circle of diamonds, surrounding a solitary diamond on a reversible drop, this pendant will be worn for a lifetime of special occasions.

Whether you are looking for his and hers wedding rings, earrings, pendants or bangles, Sym Jewellery will ensure your choice of wedding band and jewellery really is the best choice you make for your wedding. Sym has an unrivalled commitment to quality, customer service and craftsmanship and it is these core qualities which set the standard for its business and which see's customers return again and again for their next piece of jewellery.
